River Road Resident Killed In Tuesday Morning Collision

A 36-year-old Princeton resident, Jessica K. Um, of 39F Roxbury Court on River Road, was killed instantly Tuesday morning when her car collided head-on with another car on River Road, a half-mile in from Route 27.

The second driver, Mary Elizabeth Kondyra, 26, of Easter Lane, Levittown, Pa. was transported by the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad to Princeton Medical Center for treatment of chest injuries and a fractured foot. Both drivers were traveling alone and were wearing seat belts.

"We'll never know," said Sgt. David Cromwell, the Township Traffic Safety Officer who is conducting the investigation, "what caused the victim's Hyundai to cross over the center line into the opposite lane."

The victim's car was heading south toward Route 27. Where the accident occurred, Sgt. Cromwell said, the roadway is straight just before it starts to curve. Instead of following the curve the Um car continued straight into the northbound lane.

Ms. Kondyra told police that the Um car, as it approached her, did not veer sharply; it just slowly crossed the road and went straight. There were skid marks from her Pontiac Grand Prix where she tried to get out of the way; none from the Um car.

There were no witnesses to the accident which occurred at 9:05 in broad daylight. Princeton firemen also responded to the accident scene.

According to Sgt. Cromwell, the last fatal accident in the Township also occurred on River Road, some 100 yards away from Tuesday's fatality. On March 15, 1991, 48-year-old Isaac T. Love Jr., a Borough employee of 25 years, was a passenger in a station wagon that went out of control and slammed into a tree when it began to hydroplane on the slush-covered roadway.

Like Ms. Um, Mr. Love was pinned in the wreckage and had to be cut free by rescue workers using the Jaws of Life. He was pronounced dead at Princeton Medical Center.

McCaffrey's Supermarket Opening This Saturday

Described as a cross between Bloomingdale's and a Mom and Pop corner grocery, McCaffrey's supermarket will open Saturday at 9 a.m. in the Princeton Shopping Center.

The former Epstein's building at the west end of the shopping center has a new coat of white paint covering its brick exterior and a new wooden motif above the entrance from the parking lot. All but one of the big windows on the courtyard side have been bricked up, leaving that one as an entrance from the courtyard. Inside the 33,000 square-foot space, the ceiling has been lowered and the escalator removed.

Fifteen widely-spaced, clearly-marked aisles have been installed in the center of the space, leaving room at the periphery for McCaffrey specialties: the Meat Market, one of the hallmarks of owner Jim McCaffrey's Yardley store, where quality meats and poultry will be cut and trimmed to customer order; The Bake

School Board Votes to Hire Controversial Administrator

After nearly two hours behind closed doors, the School Board last Thursday night voted to hire M. Lee Pisauro as business administrator/board secretary. Deborah Curtis voted against the appointment. Board President Gerald Groves and Ann Baynes Coiro abstained.

Since the School Board's closed-session decision on July 23 to offer Mr. Pisauro the position, several issues have come to light relating to his role as the financial director of the Morris School District, a position he has held since January, 1985.

These problems received scant attention during the meeting's open public session, where members of the public focused more on the hiring process than on Mr. Pisauro.

As the Morris District's chief financial officer, Mr. Pisauro used an incorrect figure to determine the school tax rate this year. Morristown voters, who voted to approve a lower school tax, will instead face a higher levy.

In addition, the State is investigating a complaint of alleged fiscal, governance or financial improprieties in the Morris District. State officials would provide no details.

Resident Maria Wagner objected to the hiring of an administrator in a "hush-hush procedure behind the back of the community." She said she was "appalled" that the $91,800 job was filled in the summer.

"I object to the hush-hush characterization," said School Superintendent Carol Choye. "There were at least two meetings at which this was discussed. The decision to move expeditiously was my recommendation because of the need for a district of this size to have a business administrator in charge of the budget. Any slowing of the process would have meant an interim administrator for at least 60 days."

The job was widely advertised in the nine days between the Board's decision to hire a replacement for Robert Rader, who resigned, and the designation of Mr. Pisauro to fill the job, according to Personnel Director Faye Hunsinger.

In addition to professional journals, advertisements appeared in newspapers throughout the area and state. Ms. Hunsinger did acknowledge, however, that one version of the ad gave applicants

Deborah Curtis Says She Was Pressured To Resign from Board

The resignation of School Board member Deborah Curtis on Friday has brought closer to the boiling point the simmering relations among School Board members and between some Board members and the Administration.

In her statement, Mrs. Curtis accused the Superintendent and some Board members of pressuring her to resign, citing a possible conflict of interest concerning her husband.

John Curtis served this summer as executive director of a multi-cultural enrichment summer program for middle-school-age children. The program, conceived by Princeton resident Caroline Mitchell and run by a citizen board of directors, was funded largely by the School Board.

At the time the School Board approved $50,000 for the program, Mr. Curtis was not directing it. He came on board several weeks later. Mr. Curtis, athletic director of a high school in Newark, was paid $3,000. The summer program ends Friday.

an August deadline. "It was an error," she said.

After the lengthy closed session, Richard Godfrey moved Mr. PISAURO's appointment. He was seconded by Patty Soffronoff.

A number of Board members voiced their support of Mr. PISAURO, but criticized the process that led to his hiring.

"I am still very opposed to the process, which was further flawed by the way it was carried out," said Mr. Godfrey. He said Mr. PISAURO was "by far the best candidate, who brings a great deal of experience and personal integrity."

Mr. Godfrey, a frequent critic of the way the school budget was prepared and presented by Mr. Rader, acknowledged that Mr. PISAURO's experience in presenting the budget to the community was limited.

"I don't think we can hold it against him that, in Morris, not many people are concerned with the budget process," said Mr. Godfrey, who added that the mistakes that resulted in an election that was "seriously flawed" were not sufficient to diminish his respect for Mr. PISAURO and for his credentials.

John Clearwater acted as a watchdog of the school budget prior to his election to the Board this past April. He said it was important to separate the process from Mr. PISAURO. "Based on everything I know, we are dealing with a highly competent person of great integrity," he said.

Deborah Curtis said she was unable to separate the hiring process from Mr. PISAURO. She also said she thought it irresponsible of the Board to fill this position with a business administrator/board secretary who is coming in with so much controversy.

Dr. Groves and Ms. Coiro, the two board members who abstained from voting, said they too could not separate the vote for Mr. PISAURO from the process. Neither voiced any criticism of Mr. PISAURO.

Edge of Civility

Many board members are walking a sharp edge of civility in their relations with each other. Board member Corinne Kyle responded to Dr. Groves' comment that the Board should have hired an interim administrator so it could look at restructuring the administration by saying that it was incumbent on members of the Board to support the majority of the Board.

Mrs. Curtis responded, "I am really tired of being lectured by members of the Board. It is not your place to lecture." "Thanks for the lecture," snapped Ms. Kyle.

Several Board members, including Mrs. Soffronoff and Mr. Clearwater, said they didn't feel the board had foregone the opportunity to restructure through the appointment of a business administrator.

From the audience, Michael Littman said he felt the community had been cut off in this process. "I think that was shameful."

There was audible agreement from several in the audience.

Mr. PISAURO will begin his new job on November 14. In the meantime, he will be paid $417.27 a day for those days until September 14 that he spends at the Valley Road administration building.

The new business administrator/board secretary holds an Ed.D. in educational administration from Rutgers University, and an M.A. in chemistry education and B.A. in physical sciences from Trenton State College.

Prior to his joining the Morris School District, he served as school business administrator/T&E coordinator in the Somerville Public Schools, from 1978 to 1985, and as school program coordinator to the Somerset County superintendent of schools, from 1977 to 1978.

Early in his career, from 1966 to 1969, he taught biology and chemistry at Princeton High School.

Shopping Mall Plans Reviewed by Board

Plans for a major shopping mall at the intersection of Route 1 and Province Line Road are under review by the West Windsor Planning Board.

A general development plan for the Nassau Park project was approved by the West Windsor Board last December. Last Wednesday, the board began what is expected to be a series of four hearings on the application of NLA Associates, a partnership with Alan Landis, developer of Carnegie Center, as controlling partner, for preliminary and final site plan approval for the 583,000-square-foot retail portion of Nassau Park. The next hearing will be on Wednesday, September 16.

Nassau Park is a 162-acre tract directly across Province Line Road from Mercer Mall. A large green-glassed office building built several years ago occupies one portion of the tract. American Cyanamid is directly across Route 1, with Quaker Bridge Mall diagonally across the highway south of the Quaker Bridge overpass. The proposed shopping center will be located on 62.5 acres in the corner of the tract nearest to the intersection of Route 1 and Province Line Road, north of the overpass.

According to the project architect Michael Kraus, the anchor stores will be a 138,000-square-foot Wal Mart, a 135,000-square-foot Sam's Club, and a 120,000-square-foot Home Depot. There will be about a dozen smaller stores ranging between 10,000 and 25,000 square feet. Parking will be provided for 2,915 cars.

RIBBON CUTTING: Marking the official opening on Friday of the newly reconstructed park on John and Lytle Streets are Borough Mayor Marvin Reed and Councilwoman Mildred Trotman. The new facility, already popular with neighborhood children, is expected to be named the Mary Moss Playground, in honor of the neighborhood resident who was the park's attendant for many years.

Mr. Landis stepped in to purchase Nassau Park when its original owners were having financial difficulties, and he succeeded in obtaining a change in zoning to allow more retail use on the tract than was previously allowed. He told the West Windsor Planning Board he hopes to open the retail portion of Nassau Park in late 1993 or early 1994.

NLA Associates is also applying for preliminary site plan approval for a possible 17,000-square-foot expansion of Sam's Club, which would bring the whole shopping center to 600,000 square feet.

Also Office Space

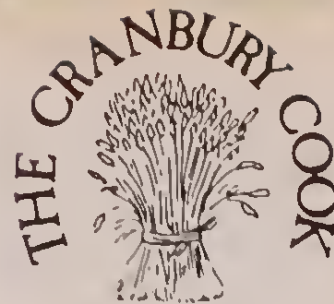

NLA Associates also plans to build one million square feet of office space in three building clusters over the next eight to 12 years. Originally a Radisson Hotel was proposed for the tract.

According to the developer's consultants, a 99-foot berm will be erected to block the view of Nassau Park from neighbors in Port Mercer. There are five residences in this historic area along the Delaware & Raritan Canal.

Meanwhile, a short distance north on Route 1, construction is proceeding apace on DKM Properties' The Shops at Windsor Greens. Located next to the idle Prince Theater and the Palmer Inn motel, this is a 157,000-square-foot shopping center which will have a 51,000-square-foot Pathmark Supermarket, a 30,000-square-foot Marshall's department store, 17,500-square-foot Staples office supply store, and a 11,500-square-foot Barnes and Noble bookstore as well as a Pizza Hut restaurant.

two shopping centers will share a common driveway onto Route 1.

Still another shopping center was proposed in 1989 in the vicinity of Quaker Bridge Mall. Tentatively named West Windsor Village Centre, it was the project of an organization called Terranomics Development Corp. and proposed to be about 135,000-square-foot, located on acreage belonging to American Cyanamid, the Behr-Wood Kennels and a private citizen.

A retail component of 50,000 square feet was approved by the Lawrence Planning Board as part of TCR (Trammel Crow Residential) Princeton Limited Partnership's plans to build two "villages" consisting of some 962 dwelling units. The mixed-use development was approved for a 180-acre tract bounded by Quaker Bridge, Lawrence Station and Groves Mill roads in Lawrence Township.

Who Will Shop There?

Where will the shoppers come from? Has there been enough new residential construction to warrant additional shopping centers? Three hundred new homes are rapidly being built in Princeton by Callon Homes in a development called Washington Oaks, between Stockton Street and Princeton Pike.

In Montgomery Township, DKM Residential Properties is constructing 475 single family residences around an 18-hole golf course located off The Great Road. Also in Montgomery, preliminary work has begun on Pike Run, a 1,310-unit residential complex planned by Bellemead Development Corp. on either side of Route 206 near the Belle Mead overpass.

Two other massive developments in the area have stalled, and one has been dropped. The residential development formerly called Yorkshire Village, 880 approved units across Province Line Road from the proposed Nassau Park shopping center, is tied up in litigation. Countryside at Princeton, a 1,500-unit project in West Windsor, has not broken ground since it was approved.

Another golf community, 364 luxury homes proposed by Hopelaw Properties on 812 acres straddling the Hopewell and Lawrenceville borders owned by ATT in the vicinity of Cold Soil Road, was withdrawn by the developer after the Lawrence Township Council decided to put the matter of sewer service to a referendum vote in the November general election.

New Inspection Schedule

New operating hours went into effect Monday at all Motor Vehicle Inspection Stations.

The new schedule is: Monday, 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m.; Tuesday, 11 a.m.-7:30 p.m.; Wednesday, 8 a.m.-7:30 p.m.; Thursday, 11 a.m.-7:30 p.m.; Friday, 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m.; Saturday, 8 a.m.-noon.

The new hours are the result of the restoration of $5 million in funding that allows all 35 state inspection stations to resume Saturday and evening hours. Budget cuts in July had forced the division to scale back hours of operation at the stations.

Interim Athletic Director Planned by High School

School starts in two weeks, and no athletic director has yet been hired to replace Carol Parsons, who resigned in the spring.

This past week, the Princeton Regional District put out an internal memo advertising for a person to fill the position on an interim basis. The application process will close Thursday.

Efforts to replace Ms. Parsons with an experienced athletic director were halted in July when the School Board was informed that, by law, it must offer the position to four former Princeton High School department heads. The four lost their part-time department head positions when the Board abolished the position in this year's budget.

School Superintendent Carol Choye said she needs to meet further on this before it is resolved. She refused to use the term, "the four men," stating it was the reporter's phrase.

The situation has been discussed several times in open session, and the names of the four are public information. They are Herbert Highfield, Issam Taha, Gilbert Mortenson, and Gregory Youngman. All remain in their full-time tenured positions at the high school.

Board President Gerald Groves said that efforts continue to resolve the situation with the people who have a claim on the position. He expressed disappointment that the situation had not yet been resolved.

"Carol has left us in beautiful shape for the fall season," said Princeton High School Principal Marylu Coviello. She said that Ms. Parsons' secretary had been brought in early to staff the office, and pointed out

Silver Items Stolen From Westerly Rd. Home

While the owner was out in the yard trimming bushes Thursday morning, someone entered his home and stole assorted silver items worth $1,650.

Lt. Anthony Gaylord said police believe the home was entered through a side garage door leading to a side kitchen door. Both were unlocked.

Borough police report that a small business office in the 200 block of Nassau Street was entered overnight last week by an intruder who, they believe, slipped the lock.

There was no forced entry. Taken were two power saws, a mitre saw, a router, two drills and some hand tools valued at a combined $1,400.

Girl, 18, Is Charged In Two Shopliftings

An 18-year-old Hamilton Township resident, Christine A. Mayo, has been charged by Ptl. Kenneth Riley with shoplifting at LeSportsac on Witherspoon Street and with possession of stolen property stolen from the GAP store on Hulfish Street. She has been issued two summonses calling for her appearance Monday in Borough court.

Police received a call at 5:40 on Saturday from a shopkeeper reporting that a group of girls had just shoplifted some items, had left the store and placed some articles in a car parked on Witherspoon Street. Ptl. Riley, assisted by Ptl. Edward Sullivan located the group entering a store on Nassau Street. They questioned the group, particularly Mayo, who had been identified as the key suspect. They escorted her back to the car she was operating, a 1992 Honda. Inside the officers recovered two green luggage bags and a wallet worth $132 taken from LeSportsac.

Also found in the car were three pairs of blue jeans, a jacket, and two belts valued at $245 that were allegedly stolen from the GAP. Three other girls, who had joined Mayo after she left LeSportsac, were not charged.

Two More Stores Hit

Earlier in the week, police charged Eddie Lopez, 25, of Perth Amboy with shoplifting at Zoli, 5 Palmer Square, and at Knits & Pieces on the corner of Nassau and Palmer Square.

Police had received a call from a shopkeeper on Palmer Square reporting a group of four women and three men had been in the store and were acting suspiciously. "Fortunately, we happened to have a foot patrolman right in the area," said Chief Thomas Michaud.

Ptl. Ronald Wohlschlegel located and was talking to the group when he noticed Lopez was carrying a bag with a considerable amount of clothing in it. His investigation determined the bag contained two dresses, a jacket, a shirt and a scarf worth a combined $684 taken from Zoli Also, a $35 black cotton sweater taken from Knits & Pieces.

Lopez was transported to headquarters where he was processed and issued summonses for possession of stolen property. He faces a Monday hearing in Borough court.

The other six were not charged for lack of evidence.

Car Thief Is Nabbed Near Princeton High

A man who stole a cassette and 75 cents from an Isuzu Trooper parked on Jefferson Road was later charged with burglary and theft by Township police.

While in his house around midnight Monday, the owner noticed his car's dome light was on and someone was inside. He called police and provided a description. The suspect fled on foot.

A short time later, Sgt. William Clark of the Borough (Borough police were also alerted) observed the suspect in the Princeton High School area and apprehended Christopher A. Glantz, 27, of the 200 block of Nassau Street.

The cassette and the change was found in Glantz' possession. He was charged and later released.

Repeat Trespasser

Ernst Jean-Louis, considered persona non grata by Princeton University officials for repeated trespassing on campus, was arrested Saturday afternoon when he was found again on campus.

A computer check revealed that Jean-Louis, 20, of Clay Street, was also wanted on an active contempt of court warrant. He was charged with defiant trespass and released, pending a scheduled appearance Monday in Borough court.

Disagreement on Monument

For the past ten months, Harrison Street resident Raymond Rodweller says he has been asking Borough Mayor Marvin Reed to inscribe the war in the gulf on the Borough's monument to the war dead. The monument, located at the foot of Mercer Street, was originally built and dedicated to the memory of those who lost their lives in World War I.

Mr. Rodweller, who attends almost every meeting of Borough Council, said that, although no one was lost in the gulf war, a Princeton fireman did serve in it. He is William Shields, a volunteer firefighter and resident of Bordentown, who was born and raised in Princeton.

"It's a poor attitude to take that Princeton doesn't have an interest in the gulf war," said Mr. Rodweller.

The monument is currently dedicated to those who lost their lives in World War I, World War II, Korea, and Vietnam.

"I said I would not take the initiative," said Mayor Reed "I consider this a memorial to the dead. The four wars are a totally different realm."

The Mayor added that he was not sure Desert Storm was over. "I don't want it to flare up again and result in the level of killing of earlier conflicts."

He continued, "Supporting our troops is not the same as putting an additional name on the monument to the dead."

$7,500 Trophy Stolen From Jadwin Gym Case

An Ivy League baseball championship trophy, a sterling silver engraved cup valued at $7,500, has been stolen from a display case in the lobby of Jadwin Gymnasium.

It was discovered missing August 13 by an athletic department employee of Princeton University. An investigation revealed that a sliding glass door and lock had been jimmied to reach the trophy. There are no suspects.

Two laptop computers worth a combined $1,500 were shoplifted Friday from the Radio Shack in the Princeton Shopping Center. According to Township police, three women and a man, described as Hispanics in their late 20s and early 30s, entered the store. While one took the sales clerk to a telephone area, the others cut a wire cable securing the computers and left the store.

A second employee, on arriving, noticed the computers were missing and attempted to follow the suspects. He was able to provide police with a description of their car and its N.Y. license number. There have been no arrests yet but Township detectives are continuing the investigation.

A 33-year-old visitor from Vienna, Austria last week was assigned a dormitory room on the University campus. As he was trying to locate the room late in the evening, he set his electric Martin guitar and Sony digital tuner down in the courtyard of Little Hall. They were stolen during the 15 minutes in which they were left unattended. The victim's loss: $1,700.

A green, 17-foot Mohawk canoe and two paddles, worth $400, were stolen overnight last week from the rear yard of a Prospect Avenue home. Police said the canoe had been left unsecured by a dock.

ville Road home driveway. Police said two children had been playing with it before going inside. When they returned an hour and a half later, it was gone.

While a student was studying between 2 and 4 a.m. Monday at the Terrace Club on Washington Road, she left her backpack and LeSportsac bag in the club's living room. She lost $300 when they were taken by a thief.

Thefts from Cars

There were a number of thefts involving parked cars last week in both the Township and Borough.

A 1986 Toyota parked in a Ewing Street driveway yielded the victim's purse which contained $40 in cash, assorted cosmetics, $200 in jewelry, credit cards and a checkbook for a total loss of $560. The purse was valued at $210. The car was not locked and its windows were slightly open.

Someone smashed a driver's side window to enter a 1990 Olds parked last week in the Boat House lot off Washington Road. The victim, a Township resident, lost her $70 purse containing $30.

A 1983 Chevrolet parked in the Hihben Apartments lot off Faculty Road had an anti-theft club attached to its steering wheel. Somehow a thief entered the locked car and removed the club from the steering wheel, damaging the steering column. The club was found still locked lying on the front seat. Taken was a tool box valued at $190.

In the Borough on Sunday, someone smashed the passenger door window of a student's 1985 Mitsubishi while the car was parked on University Place. Taken was the victim's leather purse containing $20.

A West Windsor driver last week noticed that he was getting poor reception from his radio. In checking, he discovered that while his car had been parked in the Princeton Shopping Center lot, someone had removed a $110 whip antenna from his 1988 sedan and replaced it with another. He told police that the antenna on his car did not have his initials which the original one had.

In two more incidents at the Hihben lot, a University employee told police that his 1982, rust-colored Pontiac 6000 had been stolen during a two-day period. The car, valued at $500, had been locked. Another University employee reported that his car had been entered but nothing was taken.

In the latter, the car — a 1989 Chevy — had been locked but when the owner came out to use it Thursday morning, he discovered the driver's side door unlocked and the steering column damaged. Police said the car was never started.

School Buses Entered

Eight school buses parked in a fenced-in area next to the Valley Road School building were entered last week and rifled, police report.

In one, there was an unsuccessful attempt to remove a radio; in others, the glove compartments and first aid boxes had been rifled. Lt. Anthony Gaylord said that a custodian saw four juveniles climbing a fence Thursday morning and chased them off. Three were estimated to be six to eight years old, the fourth, 11 to 13.

Two bicycles were reported stolen last week in the Borough. A white, 18-speed Trek model, valued at $350, was taken from Charlton Street where the owner had locked it to a No Parking sign. The victim is a West Windsor resident.

A $150 grey Trek was stolen overnight from a driveway in

13 Screens Are Sliced At Princeton Y Building

During the weekend, someone walked along the north side of the Princeton YW-YMCA building on Paul Robeson Place and, using a sharp instrument, cut big slices into 13 window screens. Police said they have received no estimate of the damage cost.

Earlier in the week, someone cut a screen and then smashed a first-floor window at the Riverside School with a rock. There was no entry but damage was placed at $150.

During a one-week period, someone cut a screen and smashed a basement window of a home on Leigh Avenue. There was no entry. Police report the occupant found two large rocks in the basement. Replacement cost: $50.

Two-Hour Parking on Nassau Street?

The Borough's Traffic and Transportation Committee is planning to take a close look at the issue of two-hour meters on Nassau Street. This is part of the committee's overall examination of how to improve life for parkers and pedestrians in the Borough's Central Business District.

The committee will meet Wednesday, August 26, on this, and will plan a second meeting prior to presenting its recommendations to Borough Council, probably in September.

Mayor Marvin Reed, however, says he believes an ordinance setting up two-hour meters on the north side of Nassau Street, from Palmer Square to Vandeventer, has already been passed by Council. The Mayor believes the ordinance was sent to the State DOT for its approval.

Councilman David Goldfarb, chair of the Traffic and Transportation Committee, said he was unaware of this ordinance, but would look into it. In any event, said Mr. Goldfarb, the committee might want to see such parking on the south side of Nassau as well.

All Borough ordinances pertaining to Nassau Street must be approved by the State DOT, since the street is a State road — and has been ever since New Jersey was one of the 13 colonies.

pan, 74 Spruce Street, was fined $75 and $50 toward the Violent Crime Compensation Board for harassment. Julio Flores, 38 Leigh Avenue, paid $50 for selling alcoholic beverages without a permit in violation of a Borough ordinance.

In traffic court, Joseph M. Lubin, Lawrenceville Road, was fined $515 for driving while his license was revoked. He also paid $30 each on summonses for failing to change address and unregistered driver.

Susan Danagher, 525 Alexander Road, was also fined $515 for driving while on a revoked list, and Wendy Kaczerski, 70 Spruce Street, paid $65 for speeding.

Disregarding a traffic signal cost Michael Slonim, 70 Roper Road, $65, while Eric Sawade, RD1, Princeton, paid $30 for unregistered vehicle.

Hispanic Tenants Invited to Meeting

An information program for Hispanics on the rights and responsibilities of tenants will be presented, mostly in Spanish, at the Princeton Public Library, Thursday, September 3, at 7:30 p.m. by the Princeton Borough Rent Registration Board and the Mercer County Hispanic Association.

Luz Pacheco, who is a tenant in the Borough, will play a tenant. Mary Lou Stevenson, who is a landlord member of the Rent Registration Board of the Borough, will play a landlord, and Peter Johnson, a member of the board and of the Princeton University Latin American Studies faculty, will comment on the law.

Nancy Christiansen, Rent Registration Board chairman, said the board saw the need for more education of both landlords and tenants because of the cases that have come before it on overcrowding, repairs not made by landlords, damage caused by tenants, overcharges made by landlords, and other problems. "On the one hand," said board member Stevenson, "landlords can take advantage of Hispanics' lack of knowledge of the law and fear of complaining — because so many are illegal. On the other, as another landlord said, 'These are expensive tenants,' because very often as many people as a house can legally hold — and often more — crowd in to make the rent affordable for them, which means more repairs, more water and sewer charges, more work of communication and education to keep the house in good condition and the neighbors happy."

"This meeting is to let tenants know what landlords can and can't do and where to complain and also what they should be doing to be good tenants."

The Rent Registration Board of the Borough is appointed by the mayor and council and charged with mediating landlord-tenant disputes and ensuring that Borough rental property complies with the housing code.

Princeton May Receive Second Year of Grant

Officials of the Princeton Regional District are hopeful that, in September, they will get official confirmation from the State that the District will receive a second $439,000 desegregation grant. The District received a desegregation grant, in this same amount, for this past school year.

Superintendent of Schools Carol Choye said she received a letter from the Office of Equal Educational Opportunity last week saying that Princeton's proposal had been reviewed by the Department of Education's Grant Evaluation Panel, and that the panel had recommended the District be funded.

CHAMBERS WALK CATERING

THE FIRST ONE IN: Richard Wilson Jr., age 5, a student at the Princeton Nursery School, couldn't wait to get his feet wet in the John Street Park's newly renovated wading pool. His smile tells all anyone needs to know about how good the water felt on a hot summer afternoon. The pool is part of a new park — complete with picnic benches, a large play area, and tables for checker and chess — built with Borough and State funds. It was designed and renovated by the Borough's Public Works Department.

The letter asked Dr. Choye to provide further information, which has been done. She also asked the School Board to vote to accept the monies, should they be awarded.

The Board quickly complied.

The grant proposal, sent to the State on June 24, outlines three areas in which the monies would be used. These are access and equity, home-school links, and staff development.

The grant would be used to fund an alternative educational environment at the high school level that supports student learning and provides skills for at-risk students.

The District is currently funding such a program at the high school, Project Discovery, for at-risk freshmen and sophomores.

The grant proposal also outlines the creation of a writing lab/technology center for students who do not have a computer available in the home, and an introduction for all students, but particularly minority students, to telecommunications through the creation of a world-wide multi-cultural computer bulletin board.

Home-School Links

Home-school links would provide programs that improve the quality of communication and support services between the home and school. This would include providing male and female role models for minority students who are in need of academic and social support, establishing satellite tutorial and homework support centers, and providing bilingual students with an in-school bilingual counselor.

Staff training would include training staff members in early intervention techniques that will improve minority academic achievement, assist staff in communicating more effectively with Spanish-speaking students and increase staff understanding of the various cultures represented in their classrooms, and train staff in how to implement various computer-assisted or technologically advanced programs in the classroom.

Comptroller Candidates To Be Interviewed Soon

The School Board's Business and Finance Committee will meet Thursday night to interview three or four finalists for the position of comptroller. The vacancy resulted from the recent resignation of Daniel Saragnese.

Although advertised earlier, the selection process was delayed to give the new business administrator/board secretary the opportunity to be involved in the decision-making process.

The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. with a closed session in which the candidates will be interviewed by members of the committee. Richard Godfrey is the chair, and committee members are John Clearwater and Corinne Kyle. The Superintendent will then select a finalist, or several, to bring to the Board, which will vote on a successor to Mr. Saragnese.

The comptroller is expected to be hired at an annual salary of $40,000 to $45,000. He or she will be second in command to Lee Pisauo, the newly hired business administrator/board secretary.

Sharon Bilanin and Phyllis Marchand

Evaluation of Financing Urged by Candidates

Questioning whether the current method for financing joint Township and Borough agencies "offers the most equitable arrangement for sharing costs between the two municipalities," the Democratic candidates for Township Committee, Phyllis Marchand and Sharon Bilanin, have called for a "comprehensive evaluation" of alternative financing mechanisms to identify potential tax savings for Township residents.

The two candidates explained that at present the cost of most joint activities, such as the Library or the Planning Board, are shared in proportion to the amount of the ratables. The Township's ratables are $768 million and the Borough's are $432 million. Thus, the Township pays 64 percent of these joint agency budgets and the Borough, 36 percent.

"But this method completely fails to take into account other sources of income, such as the Borough's parking meter revenues," said Committeewoman Marchand. "In fact, only $3.9 million of the Borough's $13 million budget is from property taxes, while in the Township property taxes make up $6.5 million of the $16 million budget."

"We propose a study to examine whether funding based on total revenues, or some other measure, would result in a distribution of costs that represented a more accurate reflection of the ability of each municipality to support the agencies," said Ms. Bilanin.

In addition to the Library and Planning Board, some of the other agencies financed under the current formula are Recreation, the Environmental Commission, the Fire Commission and the Health Commission. The formula also covers debt service for joint capital projects such as the new firehouse.

McCaffrey's

Shopper; Gourmet Prepared Food Department; Seafood Department; a "Farmer's Market" of fresh produce daily; and a Deli featuring international foods and appetizers as well as cold cuts of all types. A floral market is also planned.

A unique feature of this supermarket as well as Mr. McCaffrey's Yardley store is the Romper Room, where children from age 18 months to 10 will be tended free while customers are shopping in the store. McCaffrey's will also make use of the modern day facsimile machine so that customers may fax their lunch take-out and party food orders for later pick-up, with none of the mix-ups that can occur when placing an order by phone.

The new store is said to be twice as big as Davidson's and about the same size as the Pennington Food Market. Each department is run as a store within a store — the Bloomingdale's image of individual boutiques competing with each other and yet responsible to the overall welfare of the establishment.

The other image is what Mr. McCaffrey's art and advertising director, Joseph Campbell, calls "good old-fashioned paying attention to detail." Mr. Campbell has known Mr. McCaffrey since childhood and been associated with him since his boss transformed a faltering Pantry Pride in Northeast Philadelphia into a successful operation. He sold that store six years ago to open the Thriftway in Yardley now known as McCaffrey's.

From his experience, Mr. Campbell says the new McCaffrey's will be akin to the neighborhood grocery store, "where you could get everything from balsa wood for model airplanes to ice cream," as he puts it. "The kind of place where you could send a child with a list and the clerk would see to it he came back with everything Mom asked for."

Mr. Campbell says that at Mr. McCaffrey's Yardley store, customers don't wait in line beyond what he calls "the normal range of expectation." The implication is that there are enough meat cutters, deli clerks and cashiers on hand so that lines aren't given a chance to form.

McCaffrey's is hiring 150 people, nearly half of them full time personnel. Union workers from SuperFresh and Davidson's are said to be planning to picket the opening of the new store on Saturday to protest the hiring of non-union labor. Mr. McCaffrey says he is paying union scale and offering benefit packages that are equal to or better than what the union calls for.

According to Chris Hanington, Shopping Center manager, marketing studies show that many people in Princeton go outside Princeton to do their grocery shopping. She says it is these stores that are the real target of McCaffrey's, rather than Davidson's or Super-Fresh.

"I think Princeton can support three supermarkets," Ms. Hanington says. "We want people to stop going to the outskirts. If they come here, they will do their other shopping here as well."

Princeton Shopping Ctr'r Signs Chain Bookstore

Princeton Shopping Center has signed a lease with Encore Books for the 8,400-square-foot space recently vacated by Thrift Drug.

Encore Books is a chain bookstore, owned by Rite Aid Drugstores and headquartered in Pittsburgh. It will occupy space next door to Titles Unlimited, one of four bookstores in the area owned and operated by Art and Ruth Keusch of Old Orchard Lane.

Mr. and Mrs. Keusch sold their stores in 1988 and retired to open a seaside bed and breakfast on a sugar cane plantation in the Caribbean. When the buyer, Pell Wilson, defaulted on his monthly payments this year, they returned to Princeton and reclaimed the shops in April.

Although they had an exclusive lease on the Princeton Shopping Center space, the contract required a certain dollar volume in sales to maintain the lease. Evidently the sales figures under Mr. Wilson's tenure did not meet the requirement, giving Dana Comfort of George Comfort & Sons, owners of Princeton Shopping Center, the option of looking for another bookseller.

Mr. Comfort says he told the Keusches he planned to look for another bookstore before they returned to complete the six years left on their lease. The Keusches say they had no other alternative but to return, and they are very unhappy that another bookstore will be coming to the Shopping Center.

Information on when the new store would open, or what kind of books it would stock were unavailable at press time.

SBRSA Representative Submits His Resignation

John Werth, the Township representative to the Stony Brook Regional Sewerage Authority, has submitted his resignation, effective upon the appointment of a successor.

In a letter to Township Mayor Richard Woodbridge, Mr. Werth says the insurance company that had covered him at a modest premium for the "serious liability risk" to which he is exposed as an Authority board member has stopped writing that type of policy. He says the only alternatives he had been able to find are either "riddled with loopholes" or would end up costing him more than $1,000 a year and force him to switch his auto policy or his homeowner policy from his present carriers.

Mr. Werth says that none of the SBRSA's seven member towns have replied to or approved a request by SBRSA representatives for "a modest salary" to compensate them in part for the financial risks or the long hours entailed by the job. He says he would have been willing to continue to serve if the request had been approved.

School Board Is Faulted For Pisauro Appointment

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Many times and in many ways in Princeton, we have had a great capacity of doing very foolish things. I think that we did a foolish thing again last night at the Regional Board of Education meeting with the appointment of Lee Pisauro as new Business Manager to the Board.

For at least the last 24 years in this town, we seem to have had public-school administrations and boards which apparently are either totally inept or totally corrupt, or both.

Last night, the School Board voted in (spell that "railroaded in again") a new administrator on the advice of Drs. Carol Choye and Robert Rader, and Director of Personnel Services, Ms. Faye Hunsinger (Dr. Rader, who has resigned from the Princeton system, leaves for the Westfield School System September 1).

With a total disregard of actual facts and of the public's wishes, the Board voted in Pisauro (6 yes; 1 no; 2 abstentions), who is presently under investigation by the State for two very questionable actions since April, 1992, at the Morris School District, Morristown. One of these apparent errors by Pisauro is costing the local taxpayers of the Morristown district an additional $100 million dollars this year!

Drs. Choye and Rader and Ms. Hunsinger should be very, very aware of this and of the details of Pisauro's actions — and of the questioning of these actions by governmental agencies in Morristown and Trenton. Before their vote last night, the Princeton School Board was probably also aware of the details of these investigations by the Town of Morristown and by the State. The Princeton Board is, of course, also very aware of the apparent "railroading" tactics of Drs. Choye and Rader which they have to deal with constantly!

It is very simple to research a matter like this. All anyone has to do is: 1) read the daily and weekly newspapers in the geographic area of the incident — in this case, the Daily Record and the Star-Ledger, from May 5 on — in order to gain a general picture, some basic facts, and the individuals involved. (Our terrific local library subscribes to the Dow-Jones Retrieval Service).

2) Then, telephone and/or drive up to Morristown and Morris Township, to talk with any residents that you know in Morristown and Morris Township — but give very little weight to what you are told by the present employer of the person in question — in this case, local school officials.

3) There are also two State officials in Trenton involved in the investigations of the two Pisauro matters; and

4) Talk with any residents of the two municipalities involved, particularly in this case to residents of Morristown, where the tax ratable discrepancy took place.

5) Lastly, in this Princeton case — except for Board Member "Debbie" Curtis (the only "no" vote regarding the Pisauro appointment) — who of the other members of our School Board appears to have done any outside research before voting on this important matter?

In the Real World, folks, you get what you pay for, as the saying goes. If you continue to

Parking Permits Needed for Borough Residents

To the Editor of Town Topics:

As a resident of Princeton Borough, living in a house built in approximately 1890 and located on a residential street near the central business district, I regard myself as discriminated against by Princeton Borough — discriminated against because I happen to own a car and to live in an old house (considerably older, I might add, than the parking meters outside my house) and have no off-street parking.

There is no daytime parking available to me except in a municipal lot and on the street, where I might be forced to break the law by feeding the parking meters.

When is Princeton Borough going to address this parking issue? Cambridge, Massachusetts and Alexandria, Virginia, both thriving historic towns like Princeton, have successfully resolved the problem by providing permits for residents. Why can't Princeton introduce 24-hour parking permits for residents who do not have off-street parking?

Residents like me would, I think, be happy to pay a realistic monthly fee to cover any additional costs incurred by the Borough. It is a simple request.

One of the wonderful qualities of Princeton is that residents live side-by-side with businesses, and there is a sense of responsibility for the community as a whole, which, I believe, is partially due to the close intermingling of residential and commercial areas.

Is the resistance to parking permits for residents from local businesses? If so, let me remind the merchants that their most loyal and regular customers are their residential neighbors, who, without parking, will eventually be forced away from Princeton Borough.

Can we please resolve this soon? Many of us are very unhappy with the current situation. Let us see some discussion and, more important, some action now. This problem has gone unresolved for too long.

ANNABELLE RADCLIFFE-TRENNER

waste your money (or, apparently in this case, other people's money) and/or put up with inept or unethical officials; or, if you continue to do foolish things or do nothing at all — the results are your own darn fault!

Cutting Class at PHS Not a Matter of Morality

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I am writing in response to a letter written by Grant Cooper about the new attendance policy at Princeton High School, which is to be implemented in September. I agree that the Student Council should have had a voice in the new policy — especially because it is affecting us. It was wrong for the school administration to act on this matter at a time when the Student Council cannot meet.

However, I do not agree that the changing of the attendance policy "represents a fundamental change in the amount of responsibility students have in determining their own behaviors and their own destinies." In fact, I don't even think that makes sense.

Responsibility is having a capacity for moral decisions, and cutting class is not a moral decision. If our work was done at night at home (like a responsible person), there would be no need to cut a class. You take for granted all the freedoms Princeton High School allows, and think only of all the ones it does not allow.

As for determining our own behaviors and destinies, you should consider students who steal food from the snack machines, cheat on chemistry exams, and spray paint "Class of '94" on the lawn of the school. The President of the Student Council should spend less time worrying about other people's behavior and focus on his own.

Many schools don't allow any unexcused absences from classes, and those students are no more or less responsible than we are, so I suggest letting MaryLu and her gang control our destinies for a while before letting students like yourself ruin them.

Concluding Double Bills For Summer Cinema

Summer Cinema at Kresge Auditorium continues this Wednesday and Thursday with two films by Gus Van Sant Jr., one of America's most innovative independent directors.

River Phoenix and Keanu Reeves star in My Own Private Idaho as two street hustlers who cross paths on Portland's skid row, become close friends for a while, and then separate. Mike (Phoenix) is homeless, abandoned, narcoleptic and obsessed with the idea of finding his mother. Scott (Reeves) is a handsome, self-assured, preppie bi-sexual who stands to inherit a fortune — and whose father also happens to be the Mayor of Portland.

Into this story of the streets, Van Sant intermixes and updates Shakespeare's Henry IV, with Falstaff re-born as a coke-snorting chicken hawk (William Richert) and Scott as his Prince Hal. Scott agrees to help Mike search for his long-lost mother, and it is this journey that forms the heart of the film, during which the two young men move from Portland to Idaho to Italy and then back to Portland.

The evening's co-feature, Drugstore Cowboy, wound up on everybody's "Ten Best" list for 1989, but many people were put off by its subject matter. Matt Dillon and Kelly Lynch play a bedraggled and stoned outlaw couple, a Bonnie and Clyde for the pill-head age. They spend their days plotting the ripoffs, the getaways, the separate journeys that make up a druggie's weirdly purposeful existence.

Two European Films

Summer Cinema '92 concludes this weekend with Europa, Europa and Au Revoir Les Enfants.

Europa, Europa was honored as the Best Foreign film of 1991 by both the New York Film Critics and the Golden Globe Awards. A shooin for the Oscar, its failure to even be nominated by Germany was a major scandal.

Written and directed by Agnieszka Holland, Europa, Europa is based on the memoirs of Solomon Perel, a German Jew who spent much of World War II passing for an Aryan in an elite Hitler youth academy. Ms. Holland conceives her film as a picaresque adventure story and a heroic survivor's odyssey — the tale of a Holocaust survivor as existential Jewish Candide.

The co-feature is Au Revoir,

Les Enfants. Written and directed by Louis Malle (Murder of the Heart), it's a loosely autobiographic fiction film created out of memory and made tough by a responsible journalist's conscience about life during the German occupation of France in 1944.

19th Season Announced By George St. Playhouse

George Street Playhouse in New Brunswick has announced the offerings of its 19th season, which begins on September 26.

The season will open with the world premiere of a comedy called Near the End of the Century by Tom Dulack, author of the Off Broadway hit, Breaking Legs. In this play, three people, separated by years, class and social stature, find humor and compassion, and together discover hope in a world where everything from relationships to the environment are increasingly fragile.

Running through October 18, Near the End of the Century features Catherine Curtin, who played in Six Degrees of Separation on Broadway; Timothy Jerome, a 1987 Tony Award nominee for Me and My Girl; and Michael Murphy, who has been seen in films such as The Year of Living Dangerously, Manhattan, and as the mayor in Batman Returns. Gregory S. Hurst, George Street Playhouse producing artistic director, will direct.

Tom O' Horgan, known for his exuberant staging of Hair and Jesus Christ Superstar, will make his GSP directorial debut with Idioglossia by Mark Handley. Idioglossia, a word meaning "one's own language," is a fascinating and suspenseful journey into the world of Nell, a woman isolated in a tiny room since birth. Deanna Deignan will play the lead role. Idioglossia runs from October 24 through November 15.

Comedy Favorite

Three Men on a Horse, one of America's best loved comedies by George Abbott and John Cecil Holm, will be presented November 28 through December 20, under the direction of Mr. Hurst. Set in Ozone Heights, New Jersey, Three Men on a Horse is the story of Erwin Towbridge, a writer of greeting card verses, who dopes out the local horse races for fun. When a trio of gamblers discover Erwin's talent for winning, mishaps, misunderstandings and double-crossings ensue.

The season will also include Spine, by Bill C. Davis, author of Mass Appeal, who will direct his own work. A psychological portrait of a family in crisis, Spine is scheduled to open January 3 and run through January 24.

It will be followed by Morning Dew with Trellis by Richard Browner, a comedy that focuses on the fragile bond between parent and child. The dates are January 30 through February 21. The Fields of Ambrosia, a musical by Joel Higgins and Martin Silvestri, will have its world premiere on March 6 and run through March 28. An unusual love story set in 1918, The Fields of Ambrosia is about a state executioner and a woman condemned to die.

Mr. Higgins and Christine Andreas will star, and Mr. Hurst will direct. The season will conclude with Foxfire, a play with songs by Susan Cooper and Hume Cronyn, opening April 3 and running through April 25.

Subscriptions range from $119 to $196 with discounts available for students and senior citizens. A Young Professionals Night subscription is available on Thursday evenings for $140 and includes a buffet prior to each show at the Raritan River Club in New Brunswick.

For further information call (908) 246-7717, or 1 (800) 852-7899.

Grants Are Announced For N.J. Arts Groups

McCarter Theatre will receive $490,000 from the New Jersey State Council on the Arts for fiscal year 1993, the same amount it received for fiscal 1992.

The grant is one of the largest awarded in the state, behind the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra, which will receive $1.3 million, and The Paper Mill Playhouse, which was awarded $713,400. According to Jeffrey Woodward, managing director at McCarter, the money will be used for general operating expenses.

More than $9 million in grants to various arts organizations were announced at the Council's annual meeting last week. Other awards in the Princeton area include $188,030 to the American Ballet Company; $71,610 to the American Boychoir School; $10,085 to the Chamber Symphony of Princeton; $10,000 to Creative Theatre, and $4,800 to Princeton Pro Musica.

Crossroads Theatre Company will receive $264,250, while The George Street Playhouse, Middlesex County Cultural and Heritage Foundation and the New Brunswick Cultural Center each received more than $100,000.

Auditions for Mystery At Villagers Theatre

The Villagers Theatre will hold auditions for Rupert Holmes' Tony Award-winning musical The Mystery of Edwin Drood on Saturday, September 12 from 1 to 4:30, and Monday, September 14 from 7 to 10:30 p.m. Auditions are open, no appointment is necessary. The show will open November 6 and will continue weekends through December 13.

The Mystery of Edwin Drood is a musicale presented in 1892 English Music Hall style, with the cast all being members of a troupe of the "Music Hall Royale." It is based on an unfinished story by Charles Dickens in which strange events and romantic rivalries lead up to the disappearance of Edwin Drood. The audience is asked to end the story by voting for the most likely villain (who is usually a different character at each performance).

The play will be directed and co-choreographed by Barbara Mann Stuart, who has performed, directed and choreographed for several area theatres including directing Gypsy for the Villagers. Music will be under the direction of Mark McGee. Tracey Fama will share the choreography credit with Ms. Stuart.

The show requires a large cast of men and women ages 17 and over, and one boy 15 to 17. The cast relates closely to the audience from both the stage and while mingling among it. A cast member should possess comic timing and the ability to ad lib. Those auditioning should prepare an up-tempo song and a ballad, and should come prepared to dance and do a cold reading from the script.

Auditions will be held at the Villagers Theatre which is located in the Franklin Township municipal complex at 475 DeMott Lane (between Easton Avenue and Amwell Road) in the Somerset section of Franklin Township.

Subscriptions Available To University Concerts

Season subscriptions are still available to the 98th season of Princeton University Concerts in Richardson Auditorium. Founded in 1894, the ongoing series of musical events is one of the oldest in the United States. Again this year, the programs are divided into two series and a special bonus concert.

The Chamber Masterworks Series features chamber ensembles in six concerts including works of the great masters as well as rarely-heard and contemporary compositions. The series opens on Thursday, September 24, with the return of the Tokyo String Quartet, performing works of Haydn, Schubert, and Ravel.

On December 3, the Arditti String Quartet makes its Princeton debut. The critically-acclaimed British specialists in the performance of 20th-century music will offer a program including Alban Berg's Lyric Suite and the Fourth Quartet of Arnold Schoenberg. Another highly respected group from England will appear on February 4, when the eight members of the Nash Ensemble of London present works for winds, strings, harp, and piano including the Ravel Introduction and Allegro, the Mozart Flute Quartet, and the Piano Quintet in A Minor of Sir Edward Elgar.

The Shanghai String Quartet makes its winter season debut after a standing-room-only 1991 Summer Chamber Concert. The March 11 program includes works by Beethoven and Edvard Grieg. Also returning to Richardson Auditorium is the Colorado String Quartet, warmly received during the 1990-91 season.

With guest artists Maria Lambros Kannen, viola, and Peter Wyrick, violoncello, the Colorado will present a program including the Sextet in B-flat Major, Opus 18, of Johannes Brahms on April 1. The season closes with a performance on May 13 by the Cleveland String Quartet performing works of Beethoven and Brahms.

Seating for the Chamber Masterworks Series is all reserved; subscriptions priced between $81 and $129 are available in most locations.

Recital Series

This year's Richardson Recital Series offers solo performances by leading artists. On October 1, Arnold Steinhardt, first violinist of the Guarneri String Quartet, presents a solo recital accompanied by prize-winning pianist Lydia Artymiw. The program (including sonatas of Beethoven, Brahms, and Richard Strauss) offers Princeton audiences familiar with Mr. Steinhardt as a chamber musician the opportunity to hear him in the role of solo recitalist.

A rare United States appearance by the distinguished Czech pianist Ivan Moravec occurs on January 7. Familiar from recordings, hailed for his performances of Chopin and other Romantic composers, Mr. Moravec will make his Princeton debut with this concert.

The series closes with a performance on April 29, by violoncellist Carter Brey and pianist Christopher O'Riley. Mr. Brey was last heard in Princeton as soloist with the New Jersey Symphony Chamber Orchestra. His accompanist, Christopher O'Riley, has appeared several times at Richardson.

Seating for Richardson Recitals is unreserved; wine-and-cheese receptions for the artists follow each program. Subscriptions priced at $45 are still available.

The special Bonus Concert on November 12 is an evening to delight lovers of Baroque music. Four outstanding harpsichordists of our time join with the strings of the Four Nations Ensemble to perform Bach concertos for one, two, three, and four harpsichords. Featured soloists will be Kenneth Gilbert, Davitt Moroney, Olivier Beaumont, and Andrew Appel.

Works of Antonio Soler, Francois Couperin, and Jean-Philippe Rameau complete the program. Seating for the Bonus Concert is all reserved; tickets are available at special rates in conjunction with subscriptions until September 24.

Season subscriptions offer substantial savings over single tickets. Subscriptions to either series, or to the entire season of ten concerts, may be ordered by calling 258-2800, Monday through Friday, 10 to 4. Visa and MasterCard are accepted.

Single tickets for individual concerts will be available at Richardson Auditorium Box Office beginning Monday, September 14. Box Office hours are noon to 6 p.m., Monday through Friday, and two hours before any event requiring a ticket; telephone 258-5000.

Community Orchestra Reforming at YWCA

A community orchestra is again forming in Princeton in conjunction with the YWCA fall program. All local classical instruments are welcome. The group will meet Friday evenings at the YWCA, beginning September 25 at 7:30 p.m.

Some 30 years ago a similar group was organized by Bob Mueller, a flutist who then commuted to New York City to play with the Henry Street Music School Orchestra. He realized there was a need for a local group; got the YMCA interested; bought a book on conducting; and began a reading orchestra.

After a few years his orchestra disbanded. His members joined with Joseph Kovacs, who formed another orchestra meeting at Princeton High School — and it continued for three decades. Devoted primarily to sight reading, they played many of the classical works (Mozart, Beethoven, Schubert, Brahms, et al.). The group, however, disbanded two years ago.

When Mr. Mueller met Joe Ragno, who is a recent Princetonian, and learned that he had considerable experience training student and amateur orchestras, he suggested they revive the community group. Mr. Mueller approached Marjorie Smith, director of the YWCA, who offered space and put it in the fall lineup.

Depending on membership, the group will concentrate on classical music. It will provide instrumentalists at all levels an opportunity to grow together and experience the joy and challenge of the classical music repertoire.

For further information call Mr. Mueller at 448-2605 or conductor Joe Ragno at 452-7333. Or call the YWCA at 497-2111 for their fall brochure.

STURHAHN, DICKENSON & BERNARD

One of the strangest seasons in big league baseball happened in the American League in 1968 ... Only one regular player in the entire league batted over .300 that year ... That was Carl Yastrzemski who hit .301, and won the batting title ... That was the lowest average ever to lead the league in major league history.

FINANCIAL PLANS should definitely include Long Term Health Insurance IN YOUR OWN HOME.

Who was the first golfer ever to shoot an 18-hole score lower than his age on the pro golf tour? ... Answer is Sam Snead ... Snead, at the age of 67, shot a 66 at the Quad Cities Open in 1979.

Strangely enough, no East Division team — in either major league — has made it to the World Series since 1987 ... The last four World Series have featured all West Division teams — Atlanta and Minnesota in 1991, Cincinnati and Oakland in 1990, Oakland and San Francisco in 1989, and Los Angeles and Oakland in 1988 ... Last East Division team in either league to play in the World Series was St. Louis in 1987.

Tiger Football Set to Open Camp This Weekend As Favorite to Capture Ivy League Championship

Ground Game Is Tops

The Tigers have the best one-two running attack in the league in junior Keith Elias and senior Erick Hamilton. Elias, whose press notices from an outstanding freshman year preceded him into varsity competition, lived up to them all. He gained 902 yards in 186 carries, the most ever by a sophomore. That's 80 yards more than Judd Garrett gained in 190 attempts in his sophomore season. When Elias is resting, Hamilton will not let opposing defenses relax. He added 572 yards in 137 carries last year.

The other big offensive threat is all-purpose man Michael Lerch, who is set for a big senior year. With his 4.39 speed (for 40 yards) Lerch simply runs away from defensive backs from his wide receiver spot.

LIVING WITH HIGH EXPECTATIONS: Princeton football coach Steve Tosches, who is 30-19-1 in his first five seasons, is well aware his Tigers are favored for the Ivy title this fall. However, he's determined not to let his players lose their focus over all the pre-season hype.

On a gloomy Saturday afternoon in Hanover, N.H. last November, the Princeton football team experienced a bittersweet ending to its season. Surpassing pre-season expectations, the Tigers had won eight of their first nine games, but came up short in the showdown for the championship against a stronger Dartmouth eleven. The Big Green jubilantly claimed the Ivy Title, while the Orange and Black consoled itself with the knowledge it had posted its best record in almost three decades.

This weekend 105 candidates for Old Nassau's '92 squad will return for the start of pre-season practice. Among them are 16 starters from that 8-2 squad, more than any year in memory.

The team's strengths are its running attack and defense, the two ingredients that most often win league championships among members of the Ancient Eight. In 1989 running back Judd Garrett and a stingy defense led by Franco Pagnanelli produced the first title for the Tigers in 20 years.

The feeling is strong here and elsewhere that the one piece of business left unfinished at Hanover will be taken care of this November 21 in Palmer Stadium. In a league noted for its equality, Princeton has the best opportunity to finish first among equals.

It may not have to share the wealth, either. Shared titles have been in vogue in recent years (three of the last four), but this team has the talent to capture its first outright championship since the days of Cosmo Iacavazzi in 1964. Dartmouth stood alone at the top last year; the Tigers could duplicate that feat this fall.

Interestingly enough, an Ivy title seems a better bet than duplicating last season's 8-2 mark. That was achieved by winning three non-league games for the first time since the 10th contest was added in 1980. But this year's foes, Lafayette, Lehigh and Holy Cross, will prove much more troublesome than Colgate, Fordham and Bucknell.

One thing is guaranteed: this is as strong a sendoff as the Tigers have ever gotten here, but it is fully warranted. We'll get into all the caveats later; first a few supporting facts.

A year ago, he caught 47 passes for 886 yards, the fifth-best single-season total in Princeton history. He's also valuable as a kickoff returner, and finished among the nation's top 30 in four NCAA statistical categories, all-purpose running, receiving yards per game, kickoff returns and receptions per game. Lerch's speed has helped out on defense as well; he has both punt and P.A.T. blocks to his credit.

The offensive talent is not all in the skill positions. Senior tackle Chris Theiss will be back to anchor a line that returns four of five starters. Coach Steve Tosches believes Theiss is head and shoulders above the other linemen in the league.

The defense returns seven starters to a unit that allowed just 17 points per game, fewest since 1979. It has got top-notch linebackers like Aaron Harris and Gene DeMorat, solid linemen like Brian Kazan and Reggie Harris, and three of four returnees in the secondary. The only team with a stronger defense in 1991 was Dartmouth, but more than half its starters have been lost to graduation.

Wanted: One Quarterback

The most obvious concern for Tosches and his staff is filling the quarterback spot. Chad Roghair stepped into a starter's role in '91, and completed 61 percent of his passes for 1,886 yards and 14 touchdowns, a superb season. He did that with minimal game experience in prior seasons, but that was more than either of the two contenders this fall, who have none.

Juniors Joel Foote and Cam Scholvin are not as advanced as Roghair was at this time a year ago, but the situation is very similar to 1989. Jason Garrett had graduated leaving a huge gap, and into it stepped Joel Sharp, having never played a down in varsity competition.

"Joel had his limitations," Tosches commented. "But in 1989, he made some big, big plays at key moments, that took advantage of people overcompensating for Judd Garrett."

"Our quarterback has to produce for us. It's not like we're going to line up with 10 guys on the field, just because we have a great backfield. He doesn't need to be the franchise or anything, but he needs to be productive."

"Our system, our passing game allows a kid to come in and have success and grow, and we have the type of offense that, depending on his talent, we can expand and grow."

Beyond the quarterback spot, Tosches is most concerned with filling two holes in his defensive line, and developing a reliable place-kicker. The Tigers converted just 17 of 27 point-after attempts and four of nine field goals in '91, the worst production in years. Fortunately, it did not cost them a victory. A punter is needed also.

The final question mark revolves around the intangible asset that every team must develop: the right chemistry between the players, a focused attitude and commitment to what must be done.

It's just as important as talent in Tosches' mind; a winning team must have both.

"The chemistry, the attitude, the commitment — in the Ivy League that's just as important as a fast 40-yard time or a guy who can throw a football 70

Blinders Will Be Key Equipment Piece For Tiger Football Team, Tosches Says

"When you start thinking you're good, that's when you're in trouble."

Princeton football coach Steve Tosches is well aware of the pre-season talk about his team being the best in the Ivies this fall, and like most coaches, he will be telling his players to ignore it. He spoke about the two types of expectations, inside and outside, that precede any season.

The outside expectations come from the media, the alumni, the people in town, the families of the players; the inside expectations are those of the coaches and players themselves. The outside are influenced by all sorts of factors — the previous season's record, number of starters returning, star players, the schedule, etc. and can change considerably each year.

"From year to year, the inside expectations are the same," Tosches believes. "You want to win as many football games as you can. You want to be as good a football team as you can be regardless of whether you're returning three starters, 13 or 17. Heck, this time of year, we're undefeated and we want to stay that way as long as we possibly can. It's always been the same for us — '91, '90, '89, '88. We didn't downplay things last year."

"So we're going to come to camp this year, and we're going to try and win as many football games as we can. It just so happens that outside expectations now enter into the minds of the players, based on the pre-season articles and some of the hype that goes along with it."

"And that's where this football team, this group of guys, has to block out. The good programs, the good teams that repeat the good seasons, they're able to put the blinders on. They're able to keep the hype, the fanfare away. It doesn't interfere. When you start looking down the road [to a championship] that's when you're not focused, and you start drifting around."

Tosches talked about his opening comments to his coaching staff a couple of weeks ago as they started the first of countless meetings for this season. He referred to the three straight winning seasons that began his tenure as head coach, and the slip backward in 1990.

"Now, we have another chance, we've regrouped, we've fought back," he told them. "And we're at that threshold, again. That's the real challenge — for us to win seven, eight, nine, 10 games — to get yourself up to that higher level and stay there. That's what our challenge is right now for ourselves, for the program."

It's a challenge that hasn't been met in almost three decades, dating back to the Dick Coleman era when Old Nassau put together four consecutive seasons (1963-66) of seven victories or better, and brought home three league titles.

If the inside expectations can drive the Tigers to match those building on the outside, it will be a banner year for Princeton football.

yards," Tosches observed.

Led by Pagnanelli's example, the 1989 team was superbly focused, and so was last year's, captained by another linebacker, Jim Freeman. Now, the leadership falls to a third linebacker elected captain, Aaron Harris.

Obviously, these few remaining pieces must fall into place, and injuries be held to a minimum for Princeton to bring home a championship. But each Ivy team has at least as many or more pieces to complete its puzzle.

Next week, a closer look at the offense and defense, position by position.

Hole in One for Davis

Princeton resident Devan Davis shot a hole-in-one last week at the Springdale Golf Club.

Davis, 19, a member of the Wesley College golf team in Dover, Del., used a 5-iron to ace the 193-yard fifth hole. He was playing with Assistant Pro Chad Pereira and another member. "The ball hit about two to three inches from the hole and just popped in," said Pereira.

It was Davis's first hole-in-one and the fourth this year at Springdale.

Resignation

members Corinne Kyle and Patty Soffronoff, denied pressuring Mrs. Curtis to resign.

Dr. Choye acknowledged she had raised the question of a conflict of interest shortly after Mr. Curtis' appointment in July, but said she made no value judgment at all.

The Board contacted School Board Attorney Gerald O'Shaughnessy. In two separate opinions on the matter, he said there was a conflict of interest, and advised Mrs. Curtis to resign.

Ms. Kyle said she had no judgment on whether the situation raised a conflict of interest. "In my judgment, the legal situation was ambiguous — where we are looking at the appearance of a conflict of interest rather than a clear-cut conflict of interest."

She said she was surprised by Mrs. Curtis' use of the word "enemy." [This word does not appear in Mrs. Curtis' statement.] Mrs. Curtis did say, however, that divisions on the Board and between the Superintendent and some Board members are the cause of a very hostile atmosphere.

"[Enemies] implies warfare," said Ms. Kyle. "We are not at war. We have disagreements on the Board. That is not an impediment to discussion. We try very hard to work together."

Several Board members have been highly critical of the Administration over the past several months. Their criticism focused first on whether they were given timely information on the opening of Johnson Park and, later, on whether the Administration disclosed everything known about problems relating to M. Lee Pisauo's tenure on the Morris Board of Education.

2 Garrett Brothers Cut Jason Still with Dallas

When National Football League teams had to cut their pre-season rosters to 60 players earlier this week, two of the three Garrett brothers found themselves out of a job.

John, a wide receiver, was dropped by the Tampa Bay Buccaneers, while Judd, a running back, was released by the Seattle Seahawks, as the teams sought to get down to the 60-player limit.

Jason, a quarterback, is hanging on with the Dallas Cowboys. All three played for Princeton in the late '80s.

Deborah Curtis

Mr. Pisauo was hired last Thursday as the new business administrator/board secretary. Mrs. Curtis voted against the appointment.

Dr. Choye has generally been able to count on the support of a majority of Board members through these controversies. Those who generally stand behind Dr. Choye are Ms. Kyle, Mrs. Soffronoff, Ruth Bronzan, and, increasingly, new Board members David Robbins and John Clearwater.

Mrs. Soffronoff said that, in her opinion, Mrs. Curtis is in a position of conflict of interest. She suggested that Mr. Curtis might have volunteered to direct the program, instead of being paid. "This is not an unusual procedure," she said.

'Saddened by Resignation'

"I am saddened by her resignation," said Board President Gerald Groves. In his view, he said, the conflict of interest was a trivial one, and not a substantive reason to resign.

Dr. Groves noted that Mrs. Curtis has no controlling interest in the nonprofit corporation that runs the summer program, and that it was not predictable that her husband would end up in the position of executive director. Caroline Mitchell, he pointed out, was executive director when the program was constituted.

While unwilling to comment on the legal advice received from the Board attorney, Dr. Groves said the statute on conflict of interest was recently amended — so recently that it has not been a subject of court action — and that his reading of it saw a defensible position in not resigning.

In her statement, Mrs. Curtis said that it recently appeared that the multicultural program "might be jeopardized by some Board members

5th Game Needed in Softball Playoffs

A fifth and deciding game was scheduled to be played earlier this week to determine the playoff champion of the Princeton Recreation Men's Softball League.

The two contenders, defending champion Concord Group and league newcomer Ivy Inn, have danced around each other for four games, each winning two. Neither has been able to deliver a knockout when it had the other team on the ropes.

In last week's double header, Concord took a 2-1 series lead when it won the first game handily, 8-3. The defending champions broke open a 2-1 game with five runs in the bottom of the fourth. Five straight singles and Dino D'Angelo's two-run single decked the Ivy team.

Surprising Ivy shook off the loss. It got off the floor and came out swinging in the second game. Greg Ilamer and Chris Hoover led off with singles off Mike Santoro. After a two-run single by Chet Czelowski and an RBI single by winning pitcher Mario DeVincenzi, Ivy owned a 4-0 lead in the first inning.

By the start of the seventh, Ivy had a commanding 9-3 lead. It evaporated when it surrendered six unearned runs in the top of the seventh to allow Concord to knot the score at 9. Ivy hung on for a pulsating 10-9 win when it plated a run in the bottom of the seventh.

who did not agree with my opposition to the actions of the majority of the Board."

Both Dr. Choye and Mrs. Sofronoff spoke highly of the program, and Ms. Kyle pointed out that it still enjoyed Board support.

In her 16 months on the School Board, Mrs. Curtis has frequently criticized Administration policy. She was particularly outspoken during discussions of redistricting and in her concern that the 1991-92 State desegregation grant was not being used to help students most in need of assistance.

Mrs. Curtis had been prepared to resign from her seat in early July, when her husband applied for the position of athletic director. She changed her mind when it became clear the School Board must first consider four former department heads, who, the community was told, were legally entitled to the position. All other applications were then put on hold.

The Board is expected to meet on September 15 to vote on accepting Mrs. Curtis' resignation. It then has 60 days to appoint a successor, who would serve until the next School Board election, in April, 1993.

PHS Is Rated Highly By New Jersey Monthly

Princeton High School was selected as one of the top eight public high schools in the State by New Jersey Monthly. Also on the list are Holmdel, Millburn, Mountain Lakes, Ridgewood, Rumson-Fair Haven Regional, Summit, and Tenafly.

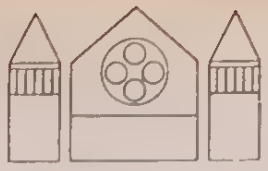

Other area high schools received honorable mention, including Hopewell Valley Central and Montgomery West Windsor-Plainshoro was named in a third list, called "The Next Twenty-Two."

Criteria used by the magazine were SAT scores, percentage of students attending four-year colleges, percentage of students winning awards, and percentage of students going to the most competitive colleges.

In the article in its September issue, the magazine writes of Princeton High School, "The sophistication of the students, teachers, and town offers a setting worthy of emulation."

High School Principal Marylu Coviello said she was gratified by this statement. "Teachers and students are remarkable in their sophistication," she said. "That essence the reporter captured beautifully."

Dr. Coviello added, "If you're going to do this, it's awfully nice to be in the top list."

OBITUARIES

Edna M. Wilson, 83, longtime Princeton resident with a distinguished career in community service, died on August 23 at Princeton Medical Center, after a series of medical complications which hospitalized her off and on since March.

Mrs. Wilson volunteered her services as chairman (later renamed director) of the Princeton Hospital Volunteers between 1956 and 1969, at which point she was elected to the Hospital board of trustees and the volunteer directorship was elevated to a professional status.

Over the years she also served on various other hospital-based committees, including the Steering Committee, Hospital Auxiliary, the Volunteer Advisory Committee and various Fete committees. She was a charter member of the Five and Twenty Club representing community members with more than 5,000 hours or 20 years of in-services volunteering. All in all, over a 40-year period, she had volunteered more than 11,600 hours of time to the Medical Center.

In 1986, the Edna M. Wilson Junior Volunteer Merit Award program was announced which supplies scholarships to reward high school seniors who have demonstrated excellence in the spirit of volunteerism at the Medical Center.

Mrs. Wilson was also an active member of the Springdale Golf Club, the Present Day Club, the Nassau Club, and Women's Investment Club of Princeton.

Born in Philadelphia, she graduated from Upper Darby High School and attended the University of Pennsylvania where she combined studies with a job in the University Library. During these Depression years she was active in a little theater group, the Funsters, where she acted in more than 40 plays over a 10-year period.

In 1940 she married high school classmate William L. Wilson. They lived in Bay Shore, Long Island, and Stratford, Pa., before moving to Princeton in 1949. Mr. Wilson was vice president of CIT Financial Corporation in New York and also served Princeton as Township mayor, school board chairman, library building committee member and also as a hospital volunteer. He died in October 1990.

Surviving are two sons, Bill Jr. of Houston, Texas and Tom of Fairchild, Wis.

A memorial service will be held Saturday at 10 at Nassau Presbyterian Church. Arrangements are under the direction of Kimble Funeral Home.

In lieu of flowers, well-wishers are encouraged to make memorial contributions to the Edna M. Wilson Junior Volunteer Merit Award Fund or to the general fund of the Princeton Medical Center.

F. Dunstan Graham, 69, of Pocono Pines, Pa., died July 24 at Robert Wood Johnson University Hospital in New Brunswick after a brief illness.

Born in Princeton, Mr. Graham lived here most of his life before moving to Pocono Pines in 1980. He was the eldest son of Princeton Professor Frank D. Graham and Mary Louise Powers Graham. He served as a U.S. Army Air Force navigator during World War II and also served in the Korean conflict. He received his B.S. (1943) and M.S. (1947) degrees in aeronautical engineering from Princeton University.

Mr. Graham was a professor of aeronautical engineering at Princeton University for 21 years before retiring in 1980. He also worked as a USAF research engineer, section head, and branch chief at All-Weather Flying Division and subsequently the Flight Control Laboratory at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base. And he did aerospace research and development at Boeing, Cornell Aeronautical Laboratory, Lear, Inc., and Systems Technology, Inc.

Mr. Graham was responsible for a long list of original contributions to aircraft handling qualities and vehicle dynamics, such as the roll/sideslip ratio and understanding of inertial coupling phenomena in rolling vehicles. He published 60 papers in his career, the last one being in the November/December 1991 issue of the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics (AIAA) Journal of Guidance, Control and Dynamics. He also published two books, Analysis of Nonlinear Control Systems and Aircraft Dynamics and Automatic Control.

Mr. Graham led the development of flight control and guidance systems for more than 20 vehicles as Chief Engineer Flight Controls at Lear (1955 to 1959). He was the first branch chief of the Control Synthesis

Elegant Chateau Awaits Your Inspection

"CHATEAU RUISSELET"

This elegant, provincial chateau on a pretty brook is both mysterious and delightful at every turn. The sun enters when it rises and remains until it sets, and the kitchen and library seem to absorb every last ray of light. Every bedroom (2 up and 2 down) has its own marble bath, and everything is new with no expenses spared. Private entry courtyard enclosed with stucco walls and private rear flagstone patio with the brook, fields, and woods beyond create an idyllic spot for entertaining even the most discriminating guest. Located at 69 Pretty Brook Road in Princeton Township, this special property is available for $845,000.

Please call Eva Sesztak at 609-466-1600 for a preview, or join her from 1:00 to 4:00 at her Public Open Houses on August 29, 30 and 31.
